

Notice of Data Incident

Dutton, Daniels, Hines, Kalkhoff, Cook & Swanson, P.L.C. (Dutton Firm) is notifying individuals of a data incident. To date, we have no evidence of actual or attempted misuse of information as a result of this incident. This notice provides details about the incident, our response, and resources available to help protect information.

What Happened? On December 7, 2021, Dutton Firm became aware of technical issues relating to systems in the Dutton Firm network. We promptly commenced an investigation and identified ransomware on certain systems. We disconnected our systems and partnered with subject matter specialists to assist with our investigation and to confirm the security of our network. We began restoring the network and business operations, and we implemented additional security policies and controls. We also communicated the incident to our customers.

On February 21, 2022 the investigation determined the Dutton Firm network was subject to unauthorized access beginning on November 29, 2021 and during that time some files may have been removed by an unauthorized actor. Our investigation revealed some personal information may have been accessed by an unauthorized individual as a result of this incident.

What Information Was Involved? The impacted information varied by individual but may include names, Social Security numbers, driver's license numbers, financial account information, credit card information, medical information, and health insurance information.

What Are We Doing? Dutton Firm is committed to safeguarding information in its care and has strict security measures in place to protect information in our care. Upon learning of this incident, we moved quickly to investigate and respond and to confirm the security of our systems. We remain available to coordinate with our clients and to respond to any further questions they have. As part of Dutton Firm's ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in our care, we reviewed our existing policies and procedures and implemented additional safeguards to further our already stringent security policies and procedures and to secure the information in our systems. We notified the FBI and relevant regulators. We will also notify the media.

What You Can Do. We do not have any evidence of misuse of personal information at this time. However, we encourage individuals to remain vigilant by reviewing documents for suspicious activity, including account statements and credit reports. Any suspicious activity on your credit report should be reported immediately to law enforcement.

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

As a general practice, we encourage individuals to frequently reset online account passwords, to use complex password combinations, and to not share passwords or use identical passwords for multiple online accounts. You may further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps you can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and your state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
